The University of Extremadura

The University of Extremadura (UEX) is a Higher Education Institution, which was born in 1973 and is located in the southwest of Spain on the Portuguese border.

The University of Extremadura is a modern institution with more than 20.000 students, more than 2.000 professors and 17 centres (11 faculties, 6 university and engineering schools) and one joined centre- distributed among its four campuses (Badajoz, Cáceres, Mérida and Plasencia: outstanding cities with stunning cultural heritage). In addition, the UEX counts with the Instituto de Lenguas Modernas (ILM) and the Instituto de Español como Lengua Extranjera (IELE).

The academic offer of the UEX encompasses a wide variety of more than 60 grades (EHEA) and masters, which combine lectures with traineeships in enterprises, giving the students a well-rounded education according to the needs of the global and changeable labour market. Moreover, the UEX offers doctorate studies in its International Postgraduate School, research programs, international summer courses and Spanish Language Courses.

What does STUDY ABROAD_DestinUEx offer?

The possibility of completing your education (Undergraduate Non-degree, Semester Master Level Non-degree or Master Degree Seeking) in a modern institution with advanced infrastructures and technologies, offering a wide course catalogue and a relevant traineeships program with high level of specialization on different fields, such as Tourism, Agrotechnology Management and Environmental Protection, Philology and social Sciences.

Why UEX?

Because Extremadura is a region strategically located in the Lisbon-Madrid-Seville triangle, holding an outstanding cultural heritage and which is considered to be one of the most important ecological enclaves in Europe. Due to this, we enjoy a high quality of life in unpolluted and safe cities, under an affordable cost of living lower than in other Spanish cities.
